making carers count

Do you want to know more about Dementia, the condition? Do you have any worries or concerns you wish to discuss? Are you unsure how to deal with different behaviours due to the condition? If the answer to any of these questions is yes, then please come along to this informal question and answer session with doctors from the Mental Health Service for Older People, at Hertfordshire Partnership University NHS Foundation Trust (HPFT.)

We are happy to discuss travel arrangements with carers without their own transport. We can also cover the costs of alternative care to enable you to attend.
